

In the Dictation exercises, students practise their understanding and spelling of the key language of the unit.

Play the audio - there is time between sentences for the students to write. Play a second time if you feel that students need it.

The penultimate exercise in each unit is a text and the final exercise is a question on the text. When they have written the question, answer it orally as a class activity.

You can correct the exercises by giving the students a copy of the relevant exercises and asking them to correct their own work or that of a partner.
