Reading

10 Read the forum.

↳ 1 .d. You should take a break for a few minutes and get some fresh air. You're probably not getting enough sleep either so you should try going to bed earlier.

↳ 2 .a. I'm sure everyone feels the same but you have plenty of time so you should start revising now. Why don't you write out a revision timetable and then get together with a couple of friends and do some revision every day?

↳ 3 .e. They were only angry with you because they worry about you. I'm sure you have a mobile phone so you should always call them to let them know where you are and what time you'll be home. You should apologise and promise not to do it again.

↳ 4 .c. If you're really serious about getting into the team, you should start training now. Why don't you go to your local gym and ask to see one of the trainers. They can organise a special training programme for you.

↳ 5 .b. Have you tried calling? If not, I would suggest doing that first. If she doesn't reply, you could go round to see her. I'm sure it won't be long before you're best friends again.

Match the problem (a–e) to the advice (1–5).

a I'm really worried about my end of year exams because I have to pass them all if I want to go to university. Ben

b I had an argument with my best friend yesterday and now she won't speak to me. Emily

c I want to get into the football team but I'm not very fit. Stuart

d I'm really tired all the time but I've got so much homework to do for school. Alice

e My parents were really angry with me yesterday because I didn't tell them I was going to a party. Lucy
